Cooperative Lesson for Youth Art Month—Auburn Washburn School District

March is National Youth Art Month! Tucker Leaden's artwork entitled, Fly Like an Eagle, was chosen to represent Indian Hills Elementary at the State Youth Art Month Exhibit at the TSCPL for the month of March. This Lesson started in Ms. Kemble's Counseling Class where 6th grade students listened to Amanda Gorman's poem, "The Hill We Climb", and circled words that were meaningful to them. When they got to Ms. Stessman's Art class, students created a Blackout Poem by drawing an image over the poem and choosing a variety of media to blackout everything but their circled words. In Library class with Ms Kilgore, student practiced their public speaking skills by recording a flip grid video of themselves reading their poem with an image of their artwork set as the background. Congratulations Tucker for your hard work and perseverance through all steps of this process!

Creation Station Activity

YAM artists participated in an Art Trivia game to discover “Where in the World is Vincent YAM Gogh”. He was found to be in the middle of a Starry Night!

I started by painting a large mural of my own interpretation of Vincent Van Gogh’s “Starry Night” and added a special picture of our mascot Vincent Yam Gogh into the center of the picture. Then I divided up the mural into separate pieces around Vincent and numbered them. From there, I gave each box an Art Trivia question. At the YAM Celebration, participants answered the questions and put a piece of the mural back together to discover where in the world Vincent Yam Gogh went. As the puzzle pieces filled in, viewers could see Vincent Yam Gogh was among the stars in the famous Starry Night painting.

Elizabeth Madden

Elementary & Middle Level Art Teacher and KAEA President

Welcome Speech

A touching recollection of how the influence of one teacher changed the course of one student's life.

"The student fell in love with art, became an art teacher, started an art program in her hometown, has taught for 17 years and is now serving as the president of the Kansas Art Education Association. Now, I'm not the star of this story...my teacher is."

"Often teachers are the behind the scenes heroes."

"One teacher can make all the difference—it can make students believe in themselves and that can make all the difference in the world."

Keynote Speaker

Annika Wooton

(Former Miss Kansas, Interim Director of the Kansas Alliance for the Arts)

A moving expression of how the arts have helped her to connect, to express and to heal.

“You never stop engaging with the arts.”

“The arts support you through the best times of your life and support you through the worst times of your life”

“You have this incredibly colorful world that you get to experience and not everybody has that. Invite people into the color that is your world.”
