LOVES YOUTH ART MONTH!!

Check out some of the awesome things we did!!!

Art at the Bullock Texas State History Museum

Abilene ISD art students traveled 4 hours each way for a day trip to the Bullock Texas State History Museum in Austin to see Hollie Nowlan's piece on display (The TAEA State Capitol Show) and learn about Texas history! They also also visited the Blanton Museum of Art to see their wonderful and various exhibits. They learned about the TAEA program, exhibiting art in public spaces, and completed various drawing and response assignments during the day. Thank you to their principal Mrs. Siburt for making this trip happen!

Mural: CHS NAHS for Early Childhood

National Art Honor Society members as well as other Cooper students are creating a multi-panel (each one is 4’x6’ for ease of transport and will be installed together as one image) mural for Crockett Early Head start which serves low income members of the Abilene community. It is a great beautification project! Currently at 34 Hours.

Representation in Fine Arts and Entrepreneurship

The Fine Arts Department teamed up with the Department of Equity, Leadership, and Planning to take students to Dallas and explore opportunities in the creative arts and entrepreneurship. It was a fantastic day interviewing and visiting with non-profit leaders, artists, business owners, and more! This was a truly meaningful experience for AISD students.

Big Art Day

Craig Middle School

Initially wanting to have sidewalk chalk in the courtyard, rain changed the plans of Craig Middle School Students!

Their teacher made a pivot and decided to have students create a Jen Stark Collaborative Drip Mural! It looks fantastic!

L.O.V.E. Big!

Mann Middle School

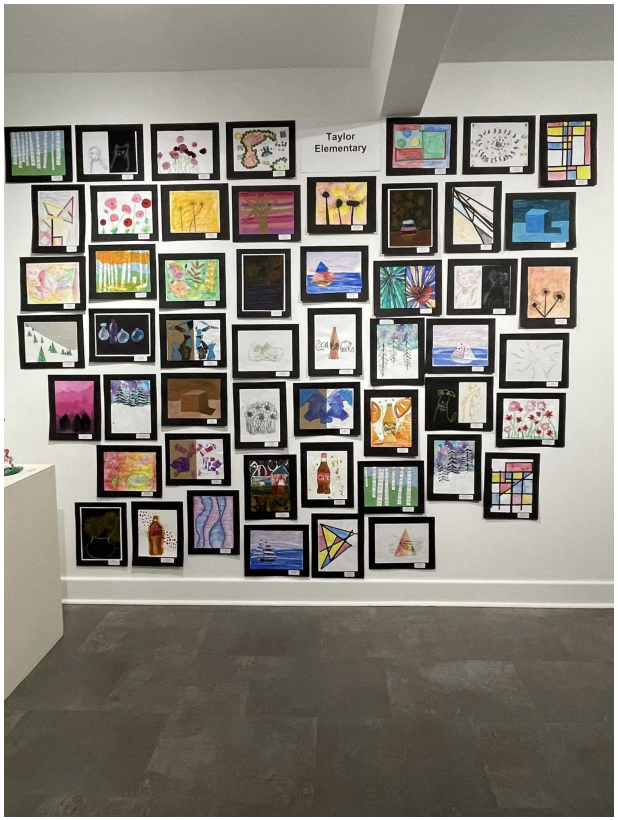

Every student at Mann Middle School (no matter if they take an art class or not) colored their own image of an L., O., V., or E. and later placed them all together for a mural in the cafeteria when finished!

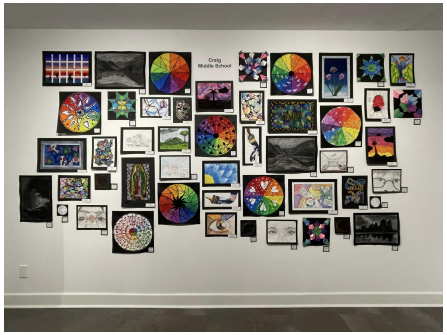

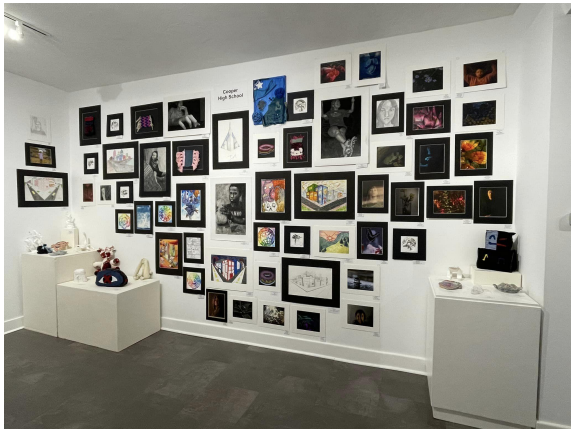

Every traditional Abilene ISD campus with an art teacher was represented at the Youth Art Month Exhibition hosted by The Grace Museum! Each campus boasted 25-30 works of art! Over 1,000 people attended!

Bullock Texas State History Museum Field Trip

Abilene High School

Abilene High School students travelled approximately 4 hours to the Bullock Museum in Austin, TX to celebrate a fellow student who was selected for the TAEA Capitol Exhibition! They also toured the museum and visited nearby museums for a fantastic art experience!

Big Mural Day

Cooper High School

Cooper High School students spent time painting murals on large masonite panels. This is a collaborative effort by a multitude of students.

The panels are large and pretty and will brighten up the hallways at a nearby AISD elementary campus!

Big Art Day-March Madness

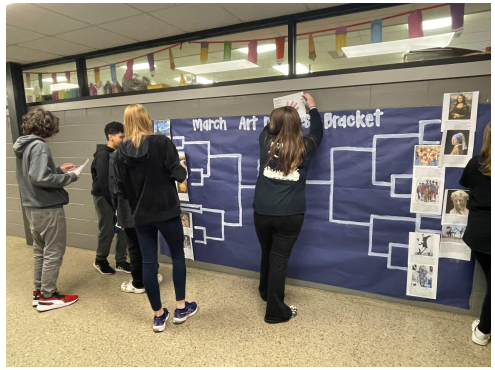

Madison Middle School

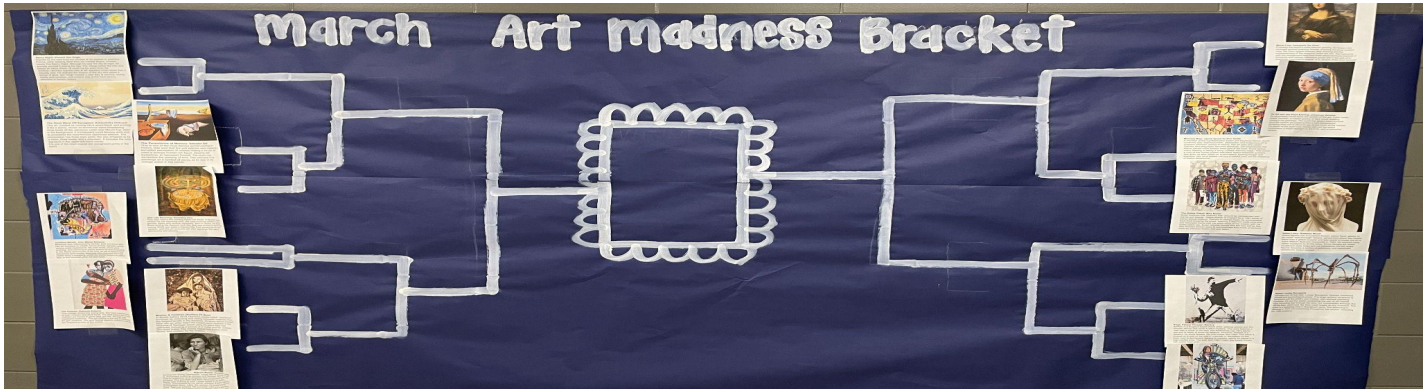

Madison Middle School students participated in a March Madness Bracket where they were able to choose their top artists for the win!

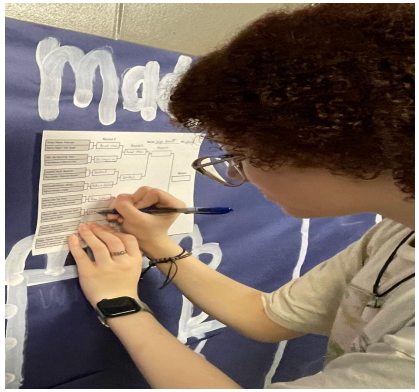

The bracket was open all day during Big Art Day and the winner was revealed later in the week!

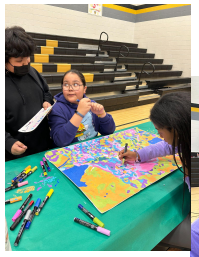

Big Art Day in Chinle, AZ!

Cooper High School

Cooper High School student council and art students worked with students of the Navajo Nation in Chinle, Arizona to complete 4 large collaborative paintings! Two stayed at Chinle Elementary, and two live at Cooper!

Big Announcements and Bookmarks!

Austin Elementary School

All Austin Elementary students learned about the importance of Big Art Day during a video presented during the morning announcements!

Then every classroom on campus took time to color and perfect Big Art Day bookmarks!

It was a fantastic day!

Beautification: Ward Elementary

Two students created three paintings of story book characters for display at Ward Elementary. 8 Hours.

Lubbock ISD has participated in TAEA Youth Art Month for over 25 years.

Nealy Holley served as chair for the 2023-2024 school year.

Lubbock ISD spent approximately $2035.58 this year on Youth Art Month in the district. We had two different district-wide YAM exhibits. The first exhibit was the Lubbock ISD YAM Blue Ribbon Exhibit at The Louise Hopkins Underwood Center for the Arts (LHUCA) from February 27 - March 30, 2024 and the second was the Lubbock ISD YAM Lubbock Garden & Arts Center Exhibit from February 26 - April 1.

We provided mat boards to our teachers for both the LHUCA Blue Ribbon Exhibit and the Garden and Arts Center. We also provided blue ribbons and gold seals for the blue ribbon exhibit name tags. We did not have to rent the LHUCA facility for the Lubbock ISD Blue Ribbon Exhibit. A Lubbock ISD Byron Martin Advanced Technology Center student created the official Lubbock ISD Youth Art Month poster. Our Lubbock ISD teachers added their artwork to the Blue Ribbon slideshow with all of the Blue Ribbon winners and their artwork and also to the Garden and Arts slideshow. Students with artwork on display received certificates for both exhibits.

February 27 - March 30, 2024

The Lubbock ISD YAM Blue Ribbon Exhibit was at The Louise Hopkins Underwood Center for the Arts (LHUCA) from February 27 - March 30, 2024. It was a wonderful way to kick off Youth Art Month and to celebrate our student artists, art teachers, and administrators in Lubbock ISD! In addition to the students that were recognized, two administrators were awarded the 2024 Fine Arts Administrator of the Year Award. Gabe Gillespie from Stewart Elementary and Michael Stewart from Hutchinson Middle School were nominated by their fine arts teachers for these awards. It was an exciting display of support for the visual arts in our schools and community. Thanks to our YAM committee members and art teachers for their hard work and to the Fine Arts Department for making this exhibit possible for our students. Congratulations and Happy Youth Art Month!

March means Youth Art Month!

March is packed with many important recognition days like Women's History Month and Music in Our School's Month, but it's also Youth Art Month (YAM), which encompasses encouraging support for quality school art programs while promoting the curriculum in our classrooms that help teach problem-solving, creativity, observation, and communication through art.

Last Thursday evening, students showed their work at the Lubbock Municipal Garden and Arts Center. This display will be up until April 1. YAM Blue Ribbon winners will be showing their work during the First Friday Art Trail at the Louise Hopkins Underwood Center for the Arts on March 1, 2024, from 4:30 - 6:00 pm and will be up until March 30.

Faces of Estacado - April 8-19, 2024 -
Lubbock ISD Central Office & EHS
Jennifer Cox

This exhibit shows a group of self portraits by Art I Studio and Art 2 - 2D students from Estacado Early College High School. Students began by looking at continuous line drawings by Pablo Picasso. They practiced for several days making continuous line drawings of each other and finally a self portrait while looking in a mirror. We then looked at abstract portrait paintings by the Dutch painter, Marten Jansen. Students were asked to paint and draw in a style similar to his and required to use mixed media. They were asked to select color schemes they believed would show their personalities. Although the portraits are admittedly abstract, each communicates the persona of its artist! If you knew these students, you would see the likeness. The emotions communicated - from depression and confusion, to joy and silliness, orderliness and perfectionism - are all so typical of these fabulous creative students! They are a joy to teach and to learn from.

Art Club students guided parents and guests through the show and answered questions about the artwork and techniques that were used to create the art. The show included at least one piece of art from each student, Kindergarten through 5th grade. The display was located in the school cafeteria and lined three walls allowing the guests to wander through the display and experience the students' creativity.

Almost 600 students came through the line to make a crown with markers, yarn, and adhesive jewels, and many asked to make a second and third! It was a HUGE hit and some students even wore their crown the next day.

Students in Art 2 created cut paper collages. The art of Reginald Laurent was used as a reference point for learning about composition, arrangement and color schemes. The neon color paper worked with chroma depth glasses producing a three dimensional effect.

The end result allowed for students to creatively come to their own visual conclusions while learning about how artists' individual styles can yield very different results while using the same medium.

And not to mention, students had a lot of fun in the process!

Getting ready for the BIG Art Day Art Hat Parade.

Note sent home.

Thursday, March 7th 2024

Alvin Elementary BIG ART DAY Hat Parade

Dear Parents and Guardians,

March is YOUTH ART MONTH. In Texas we set aside one special day during Youth Art Month to celebrate all things art and creative, it's called BIG ART DAY.

To celebrate BIG ART DAY we are once again celebrating with an ART HAT PARADE. Hats have a magical ability to spark imagination and transform the person wearing it – who doesn't remember putting on a hat, and becoming a brave firefighter, silly clown, regal king/queen or fancy magician?

At home, with your help, you and your child will create your very own ART HAT. ART HAT design ideas: customize your hat with dozens of patterns, shapes, cut-outs or stickers. Pick an artist that sparks inspiration for your ART HAT. We are asking that you and your child create and design their ART HAT using any type of material you have around the house. An old hat as the foundation… yes. That's a great idea, it just needs a creative touch. OR you might have a paper plate, paper bag, poster board or even copy paper and tape you can use to form the hat base then you are ready to let your imagination flow and design away. See ideas attached.

Thursday, March 7th, please have your child come to school with their ART HAT. We will have our BIG ART DAY HAT PARADE at the end of the day. I can't wait to see what you and your child come up with.

Have fun creating! Mrs. Quinn, Art Teacher

The BIG day is finally here!

BIG ART NIGHT
March 7, 2024

Big Art night was a family event, combined with Academic Night, where parents were able to walk through a blacklight art gallery created by their students.

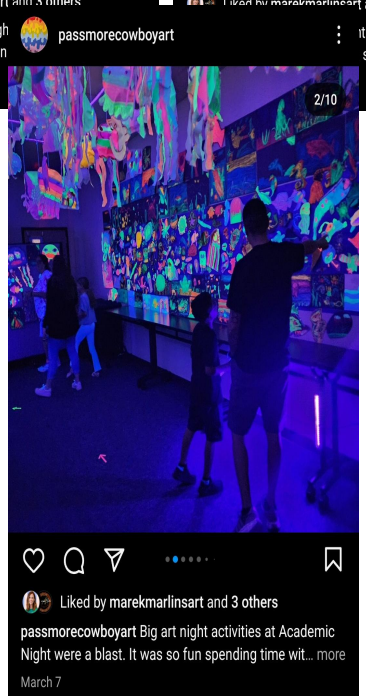

In the art room, parents were able to work alongside their students to create things that the students have been learning about in class.

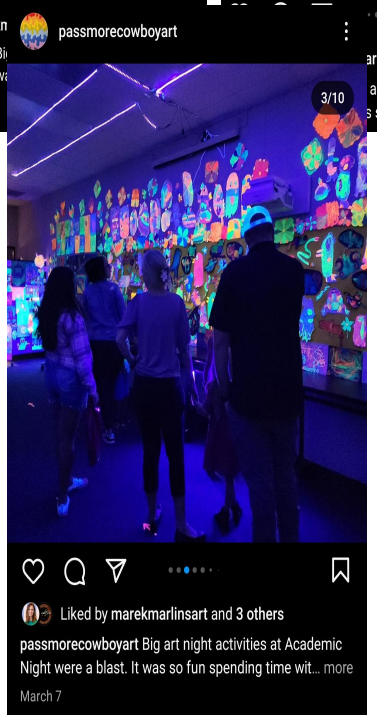

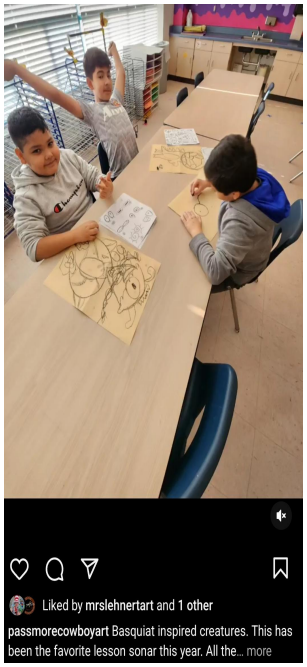

Students learned about Jean-Michel Basquiat and his style of art that allowed them to create new things without the pressure of being "perfect"

Passmore Artists participated in multiple artist studies this year. Students enjoyed creating their own artwork using the same materials and style of the artists studied

AUTISM AWARENESS MURAL COLLAB

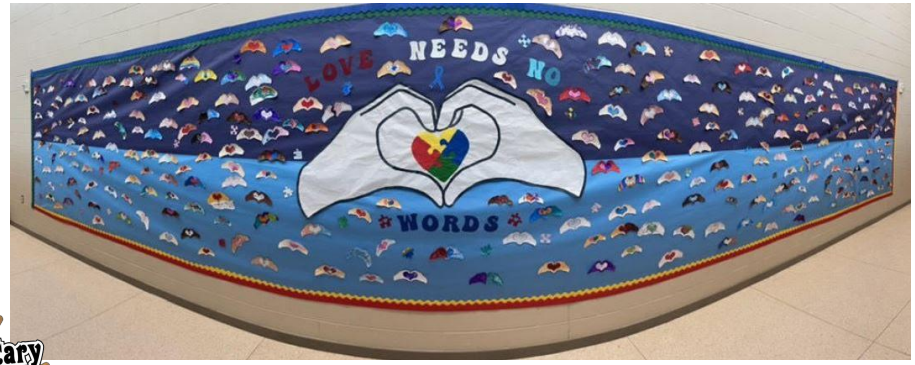

Pomona Elementary celebrates Autism Awareness Month.

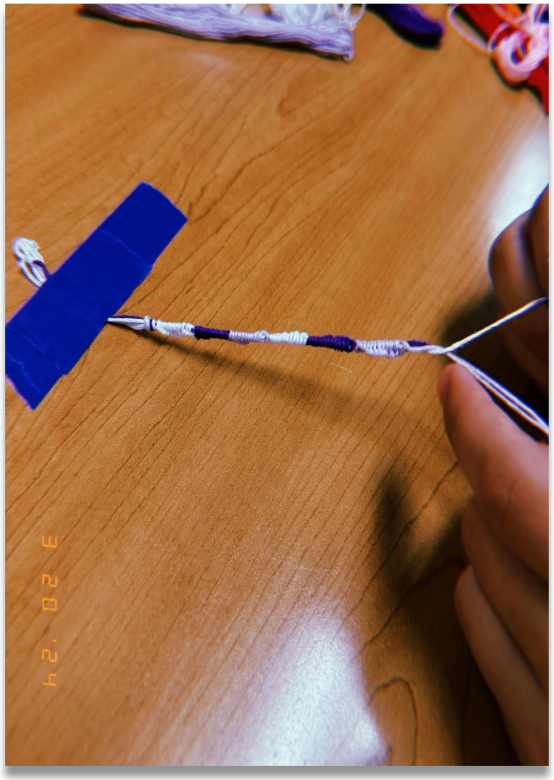

K – 5TH GRADE

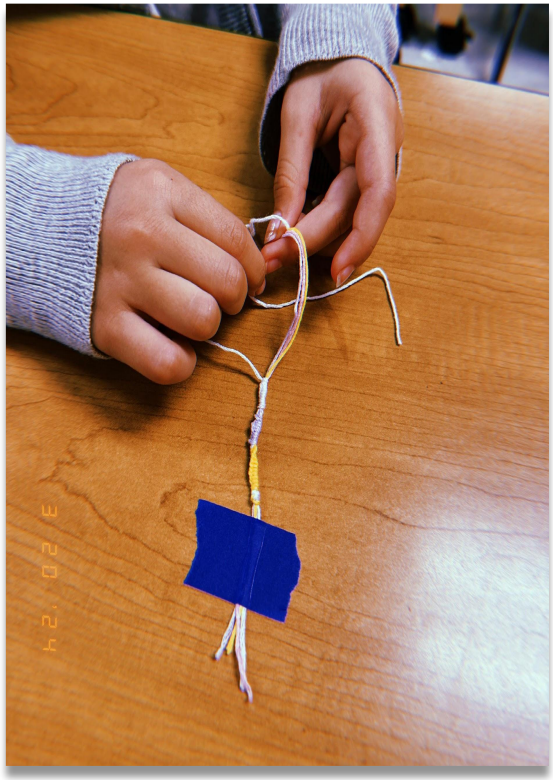

All our students came together to create meaningful, affirming and reassuring messages to bring awareness to those who are autistic. We shared stories of our classmates and even family members, and thought of ways to write words and draw designs that show our support and love for them in return. This is the final mural which was put together by our campus ASD coordinators and teachers right on time to celebrate Autism Awareness Month
